1. The full title of the Institute in MOSCOW [redacted] 25X1

[redacted] is "Moskovskiy ordena Lenina Gosudarstvennyy Energeticheskiy Institut imeni Molotova" (MOSCOW Order of Lenin State Institute of Energetics of the name of Molotov). It is situated in the suburb of LEFORTOVO, where it occupies many buildings in a large area known as the Students Town (Studencheskiy Gorodok). It is classed as a "V.T.U.Z." 2. The Institute comprises many Faculties; [redacted] 25X1

[redacted] The Institute existed before the Second World War and is probably the largest of its kind in the Soviet Union. At present there are between 6,000 and 8,000 students aged eighteen years and upwards. All students must have completed secondary (Sredney) or technical secondary (Sredney Technicheskoy) education in order to gain admittance to the Institute. The complete course lasts, in common with that of "V.U.Z.Y." in general, for five years. It is one of the few Institutes of the U.S.S.R. where there are separate Chairs (Kafedra) for Political Economy and for the Principles of Marxism (Osnovy Marksizma), which two subjects are usually grouped together under one Chair. 25X1

3. [redacted] 25X1
[redacted] the chief purpose of the Institute is to train engineers for work chiefly in electrical power plants. [redacted] 25X1
